In the event of the first nominated fish of the day not being caught, the second nominated fish species will apply for the fish of the day for that month.

Species have been placed in a thirteen month Calender to offset the species list for the next season in an attempt to rotate the species so they don't fall on the same month each following year.

In the case of the three month Demersal ban for the particalar species the fish of the day will revert to the 2nd species.
